Summary

Businesses significantly downgraded their negative expectations for economic growth in Ukraine amid the adaptive quarantine regime. Respondents expect that inflation will overshoot the upper boundary of the NBU inflation range, and that the hryvnia will depreciate more pronouncedly. At the same time, businesses reported improved expectations of their future performance.

Respondents expect that over the next 12 months:

- the output of goods and services will shrink, the balance of responses being (-16.1%), down from 34.1% in Q2 2020
- business activity will pick up the business outlook index ("BOI") was 100.8%, up from 90.8% in the previous quarter. Respondents' expectations of a rebound in economic activity resulted from improved expectations for total sales growth, and strong expectations for their own financial and economic standings and investment in machinery, equipment and tools.
- inflation will hit 7.0% (as was expected in the previous guarter)
- the hryvnia will depreciate more pronouncedly the UAH/USD exchange rate will be on average UAH 28.99 per USD 1 (compared to UAH 28.28 per USD 1 in Q2).

Respondents reported lower expectations of their borrowing needs in the near future. There was a decrease in the difference between the percentages of respondents reporting eased lending conditions, and those reporting tighter lending conditions. Meanwhile, there was an increase in the percentage of respondents who intend to take out loans. Those businesses that intend to take out loans continue to prefer hryvnia loans.

The main impediments to improved company performance are insufficient demand and a lack of working capital.

Survey Details

- This survey was carried out from 3 August through 3 September 2020.
- A total of 696 companies in 22 oblasts¹ were polled.
- A representative sample was generated on the basis of all main economic sectors and business lines, as well as company sizes based on staff numbers².

¹ Excluding the temporarily occupied territory of Crimea, the city of Sevastopol, and well as Donetsk and Luhansk oblasts.

² Data for totals and components may be subject to rounding effects.

The Economic Situation in Ukraine:

businesses expect that the output of Ukrainian goods and services will drop at a slower pace

a drop is expected by companies across most economic activities

Businesses were less downbeat about the output of Ukrainian goods and services in the next 12 months (1)

Companies continued to expect a decline in the output of Ukrainian goods and services over the next 12 months, although to a lesser extent than in the previous survey – the balance of responses was (-16.1%), up from (-34.1%) in Q2 2020.

Businesses were less downbeat about the output of Ukrainian goods and services in the next 12 months (2)

A decline in output is expected:

- in terms of economic activities, by respondents across all main economic activities, apart from those in the energy and water supply sector
- in terms of size, by respondents from large, medium and small companies
- in terms of business activities, by respondents from all companies
- in terms of regions, by respondents in 15 oblasts, but most of all by those in Volyn oblast. Respondents in Cherkasy, Rivne, Sumy, Chernihiv and Ternopil oblasts expected an increase in the output of Ukrainian goods and services over the next 12 months.
- Respondents across all sectors, company sizes and business activities were less downbeat than in the previous quarter (Table 13).

companies continue to expect that inflation will be higher than the NBU inflation target respondents also continue to downgrade their exchange rate expectations

Respondents have expected inflation to overshoot the upper boundary of the NBU target range for two quarters running

Expectations of consumer price increase for next 12 months (across Ukraine), %

Expectations of consumer price increase for next 12 months, percentage of responses

- Consumer prices are expected to rise by 7.0% (as expected in the previous quarter).
- Most respondents (55.6%) said that consumer prices would not rise by more than 7.5%, or would even decrease, over the next 12 months. One out of five respondents expected inflation to be between 7.6% and 10.0%.

(Table 14).

The hryvnia exchange rate is the main consumer price driver

- 69.4% of respondents (up by 12.8 pp compared to the previous quarter) cited the hryvnia exchange rate as the main factor behind consumer price growth.
- Production costs also remained an important factor of price growth (62.2%).
- The supply (availability) of money was regarded as the least important consumer price driver (Table 15).

Depreciation expectations increased slightly

Expected change in average UAH/USD exchange rate over next 12 months, UAH per 1 USD

Exchange rate calculations were adjusted to factor in replies that the exchange rate will not change.

Expectations of UAH/USD exchange rate for next 12 months, percentage of responses

- The average UAH/USD exchange rate was projected to hit UAH 28.99 per USD 1 in 12 months (compared to UAH 28.28 per USD 1 in Q2 2020).
- Some 62.5% of respondents believed that the exchange rate would hover between UAH 28.01 per USD 1 and UAH 30.00 per USD 1.

(Table 16).

companies assessed their current financial and economic standings as bad finished goods stocks remained at a level lower than the normal one

companies' spare production capacity had increased

Respondents continued to describe the current financial standings of their companies as bad

- Respondents continue to report negative assessments of the financial and economic standings of their companies. The balance of responses was (-5.6%) compared to (-11.6%) in Q2 2020.
- Negative assessments were given:
 - in terms of economic activities, by all companies, apart from trading companies
 - in terms of size, by small, medium and large companies
 - in terms of business activities, by respondents that are exporters only and by those that are neither exporters nor importers
 - in terms of regions, by respondents from 15 oblasts, with the worst assessments reported by respondents in Ivano-Frankivsk and Kherson oblasts.

Finished goods stocks remained at a level lower than the normal one

 Businesses continued to assess their stocks of finished goods at a level below the normal one, the balance of responses being (-11.0%) compared to (-7.2%) in Q2 2020.

Spare production capacity continued to increase

- Respondents have said that they will require no additional capacity to meet any unexpected increase in demand for three quarters running. The balance of responses was 12.8%, up from 12.6% in Q2 2020.
- The largest amount of spare capacity was reported:
 - in terms of economic activities, by respondents from manufacturing companies
 - in terms of business activities, by companies that are both exporters and importers
 - in terms of regions, by respondents in 18 oblasts, and most of all by those in Ivano-Frankivsk and Chernivtsi oblasts.

Economic Activity of Companies Business Outlook for the next 12 months:

respondents expected a rebound in economic activity, while also reporting more robust expectations for their future performance at the same time, businesses continued to report intentions to reduce their workforces

Respondents expect a rebound in economic activity...

- The business outlook index ("BOI") was 100.8%, up from 90.8% in the previous quarter.
- A pick-up in economic activity was expected by mining, manufacturing and trading companies, their BOIs being 103.0%, 107.0% and 104.9% respectively.
- Construction companies were the most downbeat (with a BOI of 94.5%).

(Table 3).

Main Terms and Definitions

- A balance of expectations is the difference between the percentages of respondents' replies "grew/improved/good" and "decreased/worsened/bad".
- The business outlook index (BOI) is an aggregate indicator that shows expectations of company development over the next 12 months. It is calculated as the arithmetic mean of the balances of responses regarding financial and economic standings, total sales of own products, investment spending on construction, investment spending on machinery, equipment and tools, and staff numbers. An index above 100 means that positive economic sentiment prevails in society, while an index below 100 indicates the prevalence of negative economic sentiment.
- A quartile is the value of the BOI where an ordered sample is divided into four equal-sized subgroups.
- A median is the value of the BOI in the middle of an ordered sampled where the sample is divided into two equal-sized subgroups.
- Short names for the main economic activities (according to the 2010 Classification of Main Economic Activities (ΚΒΕД – 2010)) that are used in the survey:
