These coins commemorate a bastioned castle that was the subject of historical events in Halych lands. Erected in the first half of the 17th century, Zolochiv Castle is a fortification constructed in a then-current Dutch style. Sitting on a small hill, the castle was used both for defense and living in it, being a “palazzo” of the “fortezzo” type.

The castle features the following fortifications: ramparts, bastions, a tower above the gates, a bridge, and a ravelin. It also boasts some Renaissance buildings – the entry tower, the Grand Palace and the Chinese Palace – one of the few examples of Oriental architecture in Ukraine.

Zolochiv Castle is an open-air museum that belongs to Borys Voznytskyi Lviv National Art Gallery, and is one of the castles on Lviv’s golden horse-shoe tourist route (the route derives its name from the location of the castles, which form a horse-shoe on the map).

The coins celebrate St. Michael's Vydubychi Monastery, which was founded by Vsevolod, a son of Yaroslav the Wise, in an area called Vydubychi, which lies on the southern outskirts of Kyiv. According to a chronicle, the area derives its name from the Ukrainian word “видибати” (to surface). In that area, a wooden idol of the pagan god Perun surfaced after being dumped into the Dnipro River near the Old Kyiv Mount when Christianity was declared the official religion of Kyiv Rus.

St. Michael's Church, which was built in the latter quarter of the 11th century, was the monastery's first masonry church.

In the early 12th century, the monastery became one of the places where chronicles were written. The monastery owned many lands with crossing points on the Dnipro River and its tributary – the Lybid River.

The monastery played an active role in the political life of Kyiv Rus. Before battle, soldiers usually gathered near St. Michael's Church.

The monastery, which is a national architectural monument, took its modern shape in the late 17th and the early 18th centuries, when several structures were added to it. These included St. George's Cathedral, one of the best masterpieces of the Ukrainian Baroque style, the monastery refectory, the Church of the Transfiguration of the Savior, and a bell tower.

On the nickel silver coin, the mint mark of the NBU's Banknote Printing and Minting Works is located to the left, among flowers.

Reverse: there is the following composition: in the center are stairs symbolizing the ancient history of the monastery, on the first step of the stairs is the inscription – XI ст. (11th century); on the left are stylized iconographic images of saints, to the right of the stairs is the image of a monk, below is the stamp of Prince Vsevolod, to the right of which is the coat of arms of a commander of a regiment Mykhailo Myklashevskyi, who made a donation to build the St. George's Cathedral (1696-1701).

This coin celebrates a town that lies on the Kazenyi Torets River, which is next to the Tor salt lakes. The town's history dates back to the times when that area was part of the Wild Fields, an area of steppe in Ukraine. In 1645, a small fort was built on the river crossing site. Later a fortress town was founded there (known as Tor or Solianyi until 1784). By the end of the 18th century, it had become the chief town of that district, to which traders came from across Slobidska Ukraine (a historical region, now located in Northeastern Ukraine and Southwestern Russia).

The development of the town has been historically associated with the salt industry – salt production and the treatment of patients with salt water and therapeutic mud.

The modern town of Sloviansk has become a symbol of Ukraine's struggle to recover the occupied areas it lost due to Russian aggression in 2014.

Obverse: above is Ukraine's small coat of arms, to the left of which are the semicircular legend УКРАЇНА (Ukraine) and the coin's face value 5/ГРИВЕНЬ (5/hryvnias); in the center, against a smooth background, is a stylized composition that shows the historical periods in the town's life: a Cossack against the backdrop of a fragment of a wooden fortress, below which are stylized waves and the legend СОЛЯНИЙ/ ТОР (Solianiy/ Tor); to the right of the Cossack are the coin's issue year – 2020 and the mint mark of the NBU's Banknote Printing and Minting Works.

Reverse: against the outline of the Karachun Mount is the following stylized composition of the modern town: above is Sloviansk's coat of arms, below which is the administrative building of the town council and historical buildings: the Holy Resurrection Church (to the right), the local hospital building (to the left), and a fountain (beneath, in the foreground).

This coin celebrates irmologions – collections of various types of liturgical chants written in sheet music. This ancient spiritual tradition was widespread in the late 16th century and later across all ethnic Ukrainian and Belarusian lands.

The Irmologion, the first book written in sheet music, contained a collection of irmoi – melodic and rhythmic models for troparia of ode canons, which made it popular both in church and teaching practices. Words in irmos texts are threaded like coral beads onto a string, alternating like ornament motifs.

Irmologions were written in monasteries, cathedrals and parish churches. Most extant irmologions are handwritten. In the early 18th century, printed irmologions written in sheet music started to appear.

Obverse: above is the legend УКРАЇНА (Ukraine), below which is a stylized gold-plated page (local gilding) from the Supraśl Irmologion (1598–1601) – the oldest extant manuscript written in sheet music and a source of Kyiv Church liturgical heritage and music, which is stored in Ukraine's Volodymyr Vernadskyi National Library; to the left of the page is Ukraine's small coat of arms, below which is the coin's issue year – 2020; to the right of the page is the coin's face value 20/ГРИВЕНЬ (20/hryvnias).

Reverse: in the center is a fragment from the Raising of the Cross with the Family of John III Sobieski icon (1670–1689), which is kept in Andrey Sheptytsky National Museum in Lviv; the fragment shows rhythmic and solid representations of chanters singing from music; above are the following stylized legends: ЗБІРНИК/ЦЕРКОВНИХ ПІСНЕСПІВІВ/ІРМОЛОГІОН (collection/of church chants/irmologion); under the image of the chanters is a stylized fragment of an irmologion page.

This nine-coin set celebrates the Eneida, a spiritual and cultural landmark of the Ukrainian people. Written by the renowned Ukrainian writer Ivan Kotliarevsky, the poem pioneered modern Ukrainian literature.

The Eneida, which is written in the modern Ukrainian language, depicts Ukrainians as inextricably tied to their language, history, customs, traditions and everyday lives. Kotliarevsky ingeniously captured the unique individuality of Ukrainians by creating cheerful and jolly characters – Kotliarevsky's Cossacks do not admit defeat neither by earthly nor spiritual powers, and nothing can break their patriotic and freedom-loving spirit.

Illustrations of the Eneida by the Ukrainian artist Anatolii Basylevych, which have brought new life to the poem, form the basis of the set's composition.

Obverse of eight coins: above are Ukraine's small coat of arms and the legend УКРАЇНА (Ukraine); beneath are the coin's issue year 2020, the coin's face value 10 (inside the zero is the sign ₴), the coin's metal, its fineness and fine weight Ag 999, 31.1, and the mint mark of the NBU's Banknote Printing and Minting Works; there are also the following vertical legends: І. КОТЛЯРЕВСЬКИЙ/ЕНЕЇДА (I. Kotliarevskyy/Eneida).

Obverse of all coins: there are fragments from the illustrations of the Eneida made by artist Anatolii Basylevych, which were reinterpreted and put together by the coin designers; Basylevych drew on his talent to illustrate humorous scenes from the poem, using humor to glorify its heroes, who travel, fight, compete, feast, have fun, cry and laugh...

In 2020, the NBU revised the design of two bullion coins and issued them into circulation: a UAH 1 silver coin and a UAH 2 gold coin.

Bullion coins comprise a special group of coins designed for investments by a wide range of investors, including private individuals. Such coins are legal tender and are also classified as investment metals.

Obverse: above is Ukraine's small coat of arms, below which is the legend УКРАЇНА (Ukraine); against the background of a pattern made of stylized Old Rus Kyiv-type hryvnias – used as a unit of weight and counting, and a monetary unit – is a stylized wreath made of laurel leaves; at the bottom of the coin is its face value 1 ₴; in the center, in an octagonal cartouche, against a smooth background, is the NBU logotype, below which is the following legend: НАЦІОНАЛЬНИЙ/БАНК УКРАЇНИ/2020/Ag 999,9 31,1 (National/Bank of Ukraine/2020/Ag 999.9 31.1) (the coin's metal, its fineness and fine weight). Beneath, to the left, is the mint mark of the NBU's Banknote Printing and Minting Works.

Reverse: there is an image of Archangel Michael, one of the most revered biblical characters, the defeater of evil and the patron of soldiers who fight for just causes; there is a circular legend, reading: ...ЗА НАС І ДУШІ ПРАВЕДНИХ, І СИЛА АРХІСТРАТИГА МИХАЇЛА (...the souls of the righteous and the power of Archangel Michael are with us) (from the Haidamaky poem by Taras Shevchenko).

The dominant color

The front of the note features a portrait of Lesia Ukrainka.

Lesia Ukrainka was a prominent Ukrainian writer, translator, and cultural activist, who has been placed on an equal footing with the geniuses Taras Shevchenko and Ivan Franko. For many generations, she became a symbol of rebellious, unique and independent Ukraine.

The back of the note features the Entry Tower of Lutsk Castle.

The Entry Tower of Lutsk Castle was constructed in 1340–1383 on the orders of the last great prince of the Principality of Halych and Volhynia, Demetrius of Liubar. For centuries, Lutsk Castle remained a strong fortress and the administrative, political and spiritual capital of the region. The castle housed the regional government, Seyms, and courts that ruled over cases involving Volyn nobility.

Security features

The banknote is printed on special tinted light-pink paper, which is the dominant color of the banknote.

The banknote incorporates a multi-tone local watermark, a light watermark element, security threads and security fibers.

Watermarks (become visible when the banknote is held up to the light): the multi-tone watermark is a repeated portrait of Lesia Ukrainka formed by paper fibers in different shades; the light watermark element is the numerical indication of the denomination (vertically, in the right bottom part of the multi-tone watermark).

SPARK feature is an optically variable image of a water lily, which has dynamic light effects. When the banknote is tilted, some areas of the image gradually change color from purple to gold green.

Security thread is a polymer stripe, fully imbedded into the paper, on which the words “200 ГРН,” a trident, and the underlined numeral “200” can be seen as direct and inverse images under a magnifying glass.

A blue window thread that is partially imbedded into the paper, and has pronounced dynamic light effects. The thread features the numeral 200, and the graphic symbol of the hryvnia. When the banknote is tilted in one direction, the background image on the stripe moves in the opposite direction.

The latent image (the numerical indication): When the note is held at a sharp angle to the light at eye level, the numerals become visible: they appear dark against a light background when the note is looked at from the long side, and light against a dark background when the note is looked at from the short side.

Relief images are graphic images on the banknote front that as a result of raised printing feel rough to the touch: the sign for the partially sighted, the portrait and images.

See-through element – the elements of the denomination numerals that supplement each other and form the full image when the banknote is held up to the light.

Orloff printing. A special type of printing that ensures there is an abrupt change of one color into another, without breaking and shifting.

Rainbow printing. A special type of printing that ensures there is a smooth transition among the colors of the image, avoiding breaks and displacements.

The microtext is a repeated inscription that can be read only through a magnifying glass.

Serial numbers. Printed in relief printing: horizontally in red ink, and vertically (with the numbers having a variable height) in black ink.

Copy-evident pattern – thin lines of different geometric shapes that form a moire pattern when copied or scanned.
