This coin celebrates the wolf and its representations on the cultural monuments of Kyiv Rus, a period in the development of Ukrainian society. The original culture of Kyiv Rus did not copy or adopt the legacies of other cultures. The tribes and peoples that inhabited Ukrainian lands for thousands of years created a culture and handed it down to future generations, ensuring uninterrupted cultural progress.

The coin is made in an avant-garde style, which calls to mind world-famous avant-gardists whose birth, upbringing, self-awareness, and national traditions are connected with Ukraine. These include David Burliuk, Kazimir Malevich, Vladimir Tatlin, Aleksandra Ekster, Vasyl Yermilov, Alexander Bogomazov...

A painter of seascapes and battle scenes and a patron of the arts, he depicted the powerful element, the sea, in all its glory. Ivan Aivazovsky was born in the Crimean town of Feodosia. He spent his childhood near the sea, which always fascinated him. That is why the bulk of his works depict the sea. However, many of his paintings have Ukrainian motifs, such as the Dnipro River, steppe, chumaks (Ukrainian traders and oxcart drivers), and wedding scenes.

This coin commemorates 500 years since the beginning of the Reformation movement, which was an important event in European culture. The traditional date for the beginning of the Reformation, which took place in Europe from the 16th to the mid-17th centuries, is associated with the publication of the Ninety-Five Theses by the German reformer Martin Luther in 1517. Luther, a professor of theology at the University of Wittenberg, deplored the sale of indulgencies (justification given by church). He stressed that salvation (or justification) was by faith alone rather than by church and religious ceremonial observances.

The Reformation in Ukraine relaxed church rules and brought the church closer to the people. This was evidenced by the establishment of national schools and print houses, the translation of the Bible into Ukrainian, and services being conducted in Ukrainian, a language understood by the congregation.

Obverse: above is Ukraine's small coat of arms, below which is the legend УКРАЇНА/5 ГРИВЕНЬ (Ukraine/

5 hryvnias). Against a smooth background is a cross, to the left of which is a conventionalized page from the Bible translated into German by Martin Luther. The Bible's decorative marker, with a Ukrainian ornament, symbolizes Ukraine's involvement in the Reformation. To the right of the cross are the five theses that are central to this movement: ТІЛЬКИ/ПИСАННЯ/ТІЛЬКИ/ВІРА/ТІЛЬКИ/БЛАГОДАТЬ/ТІЛЬКИ/ХРИСТОС/ТІЛЬКИ/БОГОВІ СЛАВА (Scripture/alone/faith/alone/grace/alone/Christ/alone/Praise be/to God alone). The mint mark of the NBU's Banknote Printing and Minting Works is below to the right.

Reverse: against a (pad-printed) red and black background symbolizing the dramatic nature of those times, is a crucifix, to the right of which is an image of Martin Luther holding a piece of paper with his theses; there are the following legends: МАРТИН/ЛЮТЕР (Martin/Luther) (above) and 500 РОКІВ/РЕФОРМАЦІЇ (500 years/since the beginning of the Reformation) (vertical to the left).

The government sponsored the theater's tours, which gave performances in Kyiv, Chernihiv, Poltava, Zhytomyr and Katerynoslav. The company included famous Ukrainian actors such as Maria Zankovetska, Varvara Liubart, Olha Polianska, Hryhorii Marynych, Borys Romanytskyi, as well as talented young actors.

The complicated social and political developments, and the constant change of governments in those days, had a bearing on the theater's development: the theater was reorganized several times and bore different names (the People's State Theater, the Ukrainian People's Theater, and the People's Theater). The theater also changed its location – from 1931, it operated in the city of Zaporizhzhia; while in 1944 it moved to Lviv, where it has been operating until the present day.

These coins celebrate Patriarch Liubomyr Huzar, one of Ukraine's spiritual leaders, who is also deservedly known as the conscience of the nation.

Although Huzar was born in the Ukrainian city of Lviv, his family had to emigrate in 1944. He studied and worked in Austria, the United States and Italy. Huzar returned to Ukraine only after the country declared independence.

Huzar was appointed Major-Archbishop of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church in 2001. The major archiepiscopal see was moved to Kyiv, and the Patriarchal Cathedral of the Resurrection of Christ was built when he was in office.

Millions of Ukrainians paid heed to the wise words of His Beatitude Liubomyr (Huzar). Even when he retired from his position as Major-Archbishop of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church, Huzar remained an authoritative public figure who was quick to respond to all important events in Ukraine and other countries.

Obverse: against the smooth background of conventionalized cross-like beams is an image of the Patriarchal Cathedral of the Resurrection of Christ (in the city of Kyiv); beneath is Ukraine's small coat of arms, to the right of which are the legend УКРАЇНА (Ukraine), the coin's issue year – 2018 and face value: on the silver coin – 5 ГРИВЕНЬ (5 hryvnias), and on the nickel silver coin – 2 ГРИВНІ (2 hryvnias). On the nickel silver coin, on a smooth background, to the left of the cathedral, is the mint mark of the NBU's Banknote Printing and Minting Works.

This coin commemorates 100 years since the creation of the Ukrainian navy.

In early 1918, the Central Council adopted several important navy laws, which at that time had a declarative nature. Among the most important ones was the Temporary Fleet Law.

On 29 April 1918, the Admiral Mikhail Sablin, who was in command of the Black Sea Fleet, guided by the sentiment expressed by most Ukrainian marine soldiers and officers, declared the Black Sea Fleet stationed in the city of Sevastopol and Crimea the fleet of Ukrainian People's Republic, and ordered that a Ukrainian flag be raised. That day, known as Ukrainian Fleet Day, went down into history as an important event for Ukraine's state fleet, the day "when an entire Ukrainian fleet pledged allegiance to its motherland".

Obverse: above, against a matt background, is Ukraine's small coat of arms, to the left of which are the vertical legends: УКРАЇНА (Ukraine) and 10 ГРИВЕНЬ (10 hryvnias) and the coin's issue year – 2018; to the right, against a smooth background, are conventionalized images of the flag Ukraine's navy used at that time, and a sailing military ship; to the left of the ship is the mint mark of the NBU's Banknote Printing and Minting Works.

Reverse: against the backdrop of conventionalized waves is the figure 100, one zero of which contains a wind rose diagram (a tool that graphically displays wind speed and direction), with the other zero depicting a trident placed on an anchor; on both sides of the trident are the years – 1918 and 2018; there are the following legends: СТВОРЕННЯ УКРАЇНСЬКОГО (creation of the Ukrainian) (above) and ВІЙСЬКОВО-МОРСЬКОГО ФЛОТУ (navy) (below).

This coin commemorates the Autonomous Republic of Crimea, on the Crimean peninsula in southern Ukraine. The peninsula is washed by the Black and Azov seas, and is separated from mainland Ukraine by Sivash Lake.

Crimea has a huge recreational potential due to it being a natural resort and having unique landscapes. It boasts many places of archeological, historical, cultural, and architectural interest. The peninsula has been home to many peoples, who have created its present-day ethnic background. These include Ukrainians, Crimean Tatars, Russians, Greeks, Armenians and other ethnic and ethno-confessional groups.

In 2014, Crimea was brazenly occupied by Russia. Russia's claim to have annexed Crimea is not recognized by Ukraine and the international community, which regard the peninsula as a temporarily occupied territory.

The commemorative coin celebrates the shah, a currency that circulated in the times of the Ukrainian People's Republic. The shah was equivalent to 1/100 of the hryvnia and was issued in the form of postage stamps with denominations of 10, 20, 30, 40, and 50 shahs.

Shahs were initially conceived as postage stamps only. In the times of the Central Council, however, Ukraine was suffering a shortage of small change, the need for which was growing by the month. On 18 April 1918, the Central Council enacted a law that authorized the issuance of shahs in the form of postage stamps that were to be used as coins.

Obverse: Ukraine's small coat of arms, to the right of which is the legend УКРАЇНА (Ukraine)/2018; underneath are fragments of the 30-shah postage stamp; to the left is the vertically positioned face value 5 ГРИВЕНЬ (5 hryvnias) and the legends 1918, ХОДИТЬ/НАРІВНІЗ ДЗВІНКОЮ/МОНЕТОЮ (1918, has the same validity as metal coins); below is the mint mark of the NBU's Banknote Printing and Minting Works.

Reverse: a color image of a 50-shah postage stamp (in pad printing) against a smooth background, and the circular legend ПЕРШІ ПОШТОВІ МАРКИ УКРАЇНСЬКОЇ НАРОДНОЇ РЕСПУБЛІКИ (the first postage stamps of the Ukrainian People's Republic); below is the legend 100 РОКІВ (100 years).

The commemorative coin is dedicated to Christmas and New Year's Eve, a happy, joyful time of the year that stands out for its unique rituals, rich folklore, and ethnographic identity.

New Year's Eve is not simply the threshold of another 12 months, but rather one of the most ancient and mysterious holidays whose anticipation and celebration are rooted in the mythical world of fairy tales and magic. From an overall cultural perspective, this is an occasion that all countries and continents have celebrated for centuries.

In Ukraine, Christmas and New Year's Eve celebrations go particularly far back in history and have a rich variety of paraphernalia. Ancient Ukrainian traditions live on through these holidays.

The commemorative coin is dedicated to Sevastopol, the special-status city, which is honored as a hero city and is located in the north west of the Crimean peninsula, on the coast of the unique Sevastopol Bay.

The city's history dates back to the age of antiquity, represented by the ruins of Tauric Chersonese, the antique and Byzantine city. According to one of the versions, Kyiv Prince Volodymyr was baptized on the territory of present-day Chersonese (referred to as Korsun in the Ancient Rus sources), which makes it a sacred place for Ukrainian Orthodox Christianity.

The Russian Federation treacherously occupied the Autonomous Republic of Crimea and the City of Sevastopol in 2014. Ukraine and the international community have not recognized the forced annexation of Crimea and consider the peninsula as a temporarily occupied territory.

Obverse: a semicircular legend reading УКРАЇНА (Ukraine) is at the top and П'ЯТЬ ГРИВЕНЬ (five hryvnias) at the bottom; Ukraine's small coat of arms is in the middle; underneath the coat of arms is the year the coin was minted 2018; to the right is the mint mark of the NBU's Banknote Printing and Minting Works.

Reverse: the legend МІСТО СЕВАСТОПОЛЬ (city of Sevastopol) is at the top; below is a composition that symbolizes the city: a sailing ship at the top, below which is the bridge built in early XX century that is one of the symbols of the city, an anchored cross, a naval cannon, and a pyramid of cannonballs (to the left); above the cannon are the ruins of Chersonese; decorative elements in the form of grape bunches and leaves are at the bottom.

The Ukrainian people proclaimed the Act of Union – an act of unification of Ukrainian lands – which stated that from that day on, the Ukrainian people, freed by a powerful impulse of their own forces, were to unite the efforts of all of their sons in building an indivisible, independent Ukrainian state for the good and happiness of the Ukrainian people.

The coins commemorate Palanok Castle, which is located in the south-western part of the modern town of Mukachevo. This ancient historical monument of military architecture is one of the most notable Central European fortifications, and dates back to the late Middle Ages. The castle lies on the crossroads of trade and strategic military routes that ran from the south to the north and from the west to the east, and was built to defend them. This coin commemorates the Cold Ravine, a historical area associated with glorious Cossack traditions. The Motrynine Holy Trinity Monastery, which is located in the middle of the ravine, is one of its attractions.

The Cold Ravine is virgin woodland located in the Kamianka District of Cherkasy Oblast. The millennium-old oak tree named after Maksym Zalizniak (the leader of the Koliivshchyna rebellion) is the area's most prominent landmark. The ravine boasts many archaeological monuments that date back to various historical epochs.

The 1768–1769 Koliivshchyna rebellion, which broke in the spring of 1768 in Right-bank Ukraine, started precisely in the Cold Ravine.

Taras Shevchenko, who mentions the Cold Ravine in his poems “Haidamaky” and “The Cold Ravine”, visited the area in the 1840s.

In 1919–1922, rebels from the Cold Ravine Republic fought under the flag of Ukraine's People's Republic.

Obverse: in the center, against a matt circle, is Ukraine's small coat of arms, above which is the semicircular legend УКРАЇНА (Ukraine); below the coat of arms are the coin face value 5 and, against a smooth background, the vertical legend ГРИВЕНЬ (hryvnias), which becomes larger toward the bottom of the coin; on both sides of the legend are tree trunks; above, against a smooth background, is the stylized semicircular legend ХОЛОДНИЙ ЯР (Cold Ravine) (formed from tree branches, an acorn, and leaves); beneath, to the left, is the coin issue year 2019; to the right, against a smooth background, is the mint mark of the NBU's Banknote Printing and Minting Works.

Reverse: there is a composition symbolizing virgin woodland: above and below are trees, as seen by a person looking from bottom to top; the tops of these trees point to the yellow and green circle (pad printed), which is placed in the center of the coin and symbolizes leaves and the sun; to the left and right of the circle are horseback riders symbolizing the haidamak liberation movement and the liberation movement during the Cold Ravine Republic; beneath, among the trees, is the Holy Trinity Church of the Motrynine Monastery.

This coin commemorates the first launch of the Zenit-3SL carrier rocket from the Ocean Odyssey platform, which took place on 28 March 1999 and marked an important stage in the history of domestic and international rocket engineering. The rocket, which was developed by the Pivdenne Design Office and produced by the Pivdenmash Plant, successfully demonstrated the launch capabilities of Sea Launch, a multinational spacecraft launch service.

The Sea Launch Project was one of the most interesting and revolutionary international space projects introduced in the late 20th century. It used a mobile maritime launch platform for equatorial launches for the first time. The set consists of the following commemorative coins: The Horse, The Bird, and The Walking Couple. These coins celebrate Yavoriv toys, which are unique to Ukrainian culture.

These colorful wooden toys, which originated in the Lviv oblast town of Yavoriv and neighboring villages, are meant to entertain, amuse, and to pacify. While the first records of these toys date back to the 17th century, the toys gained popularity in the 18th century, becoming a form of woodworking art in the late 19th century.

Most of the toys, such as birds, walking couples, carts, rattles, and horses, can move and make a sound. They are decorated in the traditional Yavoriv painting style, in red, green, yellow, or white colors. The Yavoriv painting style is a very old tradition in Ukraine.

Despite their simple appearance, the toys have a unique attraction to them, and are thought to be more than just toys. They are believed to have protective powers, and the art of making them has been handed down from generation to generation.

This ancient and unique piece of jewelry, which dates back to the 4th century B.C., depicts unusual scenes from Scythian life and mythology, and is of superb artistry.

To this day, the pectoral's intricate details have not ceased to astound and impress people: every muscle, fiber, and fold in clothing has been carved with great precision.

Discovered in 1971 in a Scythian burial mound called the Thick Tomb in Dnipropetrovsk oblast by Ukrainian archeologist Borys Mozolevskiy, the pectoral has become a symbol of Ukraine's elite heritage, and has international significance.

Obverse of the lower coin as part of a rhombus: above is Ukraine's small coat of arms, to the left of which is the legend УКРАЇНА (Ukraine) and to the right is the coin issue year 2019, a conventionalized fragment of the pectoral's lower tier - an image of a scene where a horse is being tattered by a griffon, to the left of whose wings is the mint mark of the NBU's Banknote Printing and Minting Works, the coin's fine weight of 31,1 and the inscription indicating metal and its fineness Ag 999, below against the backdrop of a floral ornament fragment from the pectoral's middle tier is the coin's face value 10/ГРИВЕНЬ (10/hryvnias).

Reverse of the lower coin as part of a rhombus is a conventionalized three-tier fragment of the pectoral (local gilding*), below which against a matt background, symbolizing the soil, are semicircular legends: СКИФСЬКА/ЗОЛОТА ПЕКТОРАЛЬ/КУРГАН ТОВСТА МОГИЛА (Scythian/Golden Pectoral/Thick Tomb burial mound).

Four commemorative coins included in the Pectoral Set celebrate a golden breast decoration, a pectoral that belonged to a Scythian king. This ancient and unique piece of jewelry, which dates back to the 4th century B.C., depicts unusual scenes from Scythian life and mythology, and is of superb artistry.

The pectoral resembles a crescent in shape and consists of three tiers: the lower tier features animals, the middle one depicts flowers, and the upper one shows people. To this day, the pectoral's intricate details have not ceased to astound and impress people: every muscle, fiber, and fold in clothing has been carved with great precision.

Discovered in 1971 in a Scythian burial mound called the Thick Tomb in Dnipropetrovsk oblast by Ukrainian archeologist Borys Mozolevskiy, the pectoral has become a symbol of Ukraine's elite heritage, and has international significance.

On the banknote front side there is a self-portrait of Taras Shevchenko, which was painted in 1840–1841.

Taras Shevchenko (1814–1861) was an outstanding Ukrainian poet, artist and thinker, the founder of the new Ukrainian literature. His collection of poetry “Kobzar” has been translated into many languages.

On the banknote back side there is an image of the Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv.

On 15 July 1834, the university inauguration took place. Taras Shevchenko worked as a teacher of drawing of the University school of painters, at the same time holding a post in the Archaeographic Commission of the University (an ad hoc commission for study and publishing of historical documents). In March of 1939, on the occasion of the 125th anniversary of the birth of Taras Shevchenko, the University was named after him.

Security Features

The banknote is printed on special tinted paper of light-olive color, which is the dominant color of the images on the banknote.

The paper contains a local multi-tone watermark, light watermark element, security threads and security fibers.

Watermarks (visible when the banknote is held up to the light): a multi-tone watermark is a repeated Taras Shevchenko's portrait formed by the paper internal texture in different tones; light watermark element represents denomination figures (placed vertical in the lower right part of the multi-tone watermark).

SPARK element is the optically-variable image of a painter palette with the kinetic effect. When the banknote is tilted, some areas of the image will gradually change color from golden to green.

Security thread – the polymer strip fully embedded in the paper, with the images of “100 ГРН”, the trident and underlined numerals “100” indicating the denomination, which are visible (normal and reverse images) through the magnifying glass.

Window security thread is a brown thread partially embedded in the paper with the pronounced kinetic effect. There are images of the figures indicating denomination and hryvnia currency symbol on the thread. When the banknote is tilted, the background image moves in the opposite direction.

Latent image (numerical indication of denomination): When the banknote is held at a sharp angle to the light at eye level, the denomination numerals become visible and are dark against light background if looked at from the long side or light against dark background if looked at from the short side.

Relief images are graphic images on the banknote front which as a result of raised printing feel rough to the touch: the sign for the partially sighted; fragment of the portrait, inscriptions and images.

See-through element – the image of the denomination numerals that supplement each other and form the full image when the banknote is held up to the light.

Orloff printing – special printing ensuring the abrupt transition of one color into another without ruptures and displacements of the image elements.

Rainbow printing – special printing ensuring the gradual transition of one color into another without ruptures and displacements of the image elements.

Microtext – repeated inscriptions that can be read only with magnifying glass.

The serial numbers are printed in letterpress printing: horizontally in the red ink and vertically (with the changing height of the figures) in the black ink.

Copy-evident pattern – thin lines of different geometric shapes that form a moire pattern when copied or scanned.

With a view to supporting cash circulation, the National Bank of Ukraine, on 17 December 2019, issued the UAH 100 hryvnia banknote designed in 2014 into circulation. This banknote features the signature of NBU Governor Yakiv Smolii and the year it was made – 2019.

On the banknote front side there is a portrait of Ivan Franko.

Ivan Franko (1856–1916) was a prominent Ukrainian writer, critic, translator, opinion journalist, sociologist, ethnographer, historian and philosopher, whose activities were guided by the idea of promoting the interests of Ukrainians and universal human values. Being a unique phenomenon, his works represent an entire spiritual epoch in Ukrainian history and a significant contribution to world literature.

On the banknote back side there is the image of the Lviv Opera House.

Lviv Opera House was built in 1900 by the design of architect Z. Gorgolevsky.

Security Features

The banknote is printed on the tinted paper of greenish color, which is the dominant color of the images on the banknote.

The paper contains a local multi-tone watermark, light watermark element, security thread and security fibers.

Watermarks (visible when the banknote is held up to the light): a multi-tone watermark is a repeated Ivan Franko's portrait formed by the paper internal texture in different tones; light watermark element represents denomination figures (placed vertical in the lower right part of the multi-tone watermark).

Optically variable element – a stylized image of a flower to the right of Ivan Franko portrait. When the banknote is tilted, the color of the flower changes from crimson-purple to olive green.

Security thread – the embedded polymer strip with the images of “20 ГPH”, the trident and the denomination “20” in two lines, which are visible (normal and reverse images) through the magnifying glass.

Relief images are graphic images on the banknote front which as a result of raised printing feel rough to the touch: the sign for the partially sighted, fragment of the portrait, inscriptions and images.

Latent image (numerical indication of denomination): When the banknote is held at a sharp angle to the light at eye level, the denomination numerals become visible and are dark against light background if looked at from the long side or light against dark background if looked at from the short side.

See-through element – the image of the denomination numerals that supplement each other and form the full image when the banknote is held up to the light.

Orloff printing – special printing ensuring the abrupt transition of one color into another without ruptures and displacements of the image elements.

Rainbow printing – special printing ensuring the gradual transition of one color into another without ruptures and displacements of the image elements.

Microtext – repeated inscriptions that can be read only with magnifying glass.

The serial numbers are printed in letterpress printing: horizontally in the red ink and vertically (with the changing height of the figures) in the black ink.

Copy-evident pattern – thin lines of different geometric shapes that form a moire pattern when copied or scanned.

The front of the note features a portrait of Volodymyr Vernadskyi.

Volodymyr Vernadskyi (1863–1945) was a famous Ukrainian scientist, philosopher, natural scientist, and the founder of the scientific fields of geochemistry, biogeochemistry and radiogeology. He was also one of the founders and the first president of the Ukrainian Academy of Sciences, which was established in 1918.

The back of the note features the Presidium of Ukraine’s National Academy of Sciences.

The Presidium of Ukraine’s National Academy of Sciences was built in the 1850s to a design by architect Alexander Beretti. In 1892, a third floor was added to the building. Its facade features rustication and an attic decorative element with a cast-iron grid. The building was transferred to the Academy of Sciences in 1918.

Security Features

The banknote is printed on special tinted light-blue paper, which is the dominant color of the banknote.

The paper contains a local multi-tone watermark, light watermark element, security threads and security fibers.

Watermarks (visible when the banknote is held up to the light): a multi-tone watermark is a repeated Volodymyr Vernadskyi's portrait formed by the paper internal texture in different tones; light watermark element represents denomination figures (placed horizontal in the lower right part of the multi-tone watermark).

SPARK element is the optically-variable image of a composition made of conventionalized fragments of a crystalline grid and a floral ornament, which has kinetic effects. When the banknote is tilted, some areas of the image gradually change color from gold to jade green.

Security thread – the polymer strip fully embedded in the paper, with the images of “1000 ГРН”, the trident and underlined numerals “1000” indicating the denomination, which are visible (normal and reverse images) through the magnifying glass.

Window security thread is a magenta thread partially embedded in the paper and has pronounced kinetic effects. There are images of the figures indicating denomination and the trident on the thread. When the banknote is tilted, the background image moves in the opposite direction.

Latent image (numerical indication of denomination): When the banknote is held at a sharp angle to the light at eye level, the denomination numerals become visible and are dark against light background if looked at from the long side or light against dark background if looked at from the short side.

Relief images are graphic images on the banknote front which as a result of raised printing feel rough to the touch: the sign for the partially sighted, fragment of the portrait, inscriptions and images.
